

Lost Voyageur In Time

Readers Discussion

1. Emmaline has to move in with her grandmother after her mother dies. What challenges does she face at home? At her new school? How does she handle them?
2. When Alastair left Emmaline alone in the sitting room, he asked her to wait for him, but instead, she found the entrance to the hidden library. Should she have waited for him like he asked, or do you agree with what she chose instead?
3. In Lost Voyageur in Time, Emmaline is asked to make a big decision - to keep a secret from her friends. How did her decision affect her and them?
4. Once Emmaline discovers the Library of Hereafter, she is torn between spending time with Alastair and the library, her friends, and getting her school work done. How did she handle this, and what could she have done differently?
5. Emmaline has the chance to go into her own mother's past through her diary. Would you make such a choice, and whose past would you want to visit?
6. It quickly becomes clear that Professor Quinn is unhappy with Alastair, even though they were once close friends. How do you handle a friend with whom you are at odds? What steps do you take to repair the relationship?

Lost Voyageur In Time

7. Emmaline, Ciara, and David quickly become friends, but secrets begin to stress that friendship, and Ciara and David both respond differently. Why do you think that happens, and how could Emmaline have handled it differently?
8. When Emmaline accidentally voyages into Alastair's past, she lies to Alastair about what happened there. How does this lie affect the future?
9. After Emmaline's illness, no one believes her when she talks about Alastair. What steps does she take to prove he existed? How did she convince her friends of the truth and get them to help her?
10. When Emmaline prepares to jump back into the past, her friends insist on going with her. Would you allow your friends to help you if you needed them, or would you try to handle things on your own?
11. Once in the past, it quickly became clear that Emmaline had forgotten her training and had made several mistakes. What were they, and how did this impact their mission?
12. In a strange land, the friends have to find allies in the Lost Colony and Croatoan, to help them find Alastair. How hard is this when they don't know who to trust? How important is it that they share the truth with these people?
13. How does Emmaline change over the course of the book?
What does she learn?
14. What are the themes of this story?